The Btar Route Defendants Acquitted.

Washington, June 14.—There was a large gathering of the friends of the star-route defendents at Colonel Ingersoll's house to-night, which included the acquitted men, their counsel and a large number of their more intimate friends. Many of them met to exchange mutual congratulations, and out in the street was a crowd numbering 200 or 300 persons, who had gathered, partly out of curiosity and partly to express their sympathy with the defendants. They cheered Ingersoll and other counsel, as well as the defendants and suffered special sympathy of the street was a crowd numbering 200 or 300 persons, who had gathered, partly out of curiosity and partly to express their sympathy with the defendants. Colonel Ingersoll and Judge Wilson and Carpenter spoke briefly, denouncing the government for its tactics in the star-route trials, eulogizing the jury which acquitted the defendants and congratulating the latter and their friends. The crowd indoors and out was in full sympathy with the speakers. Inside the house women waved their handkerchiefs and clapped their hands, and the crowd outside became hoarse in its yells. General Brady, J. W. Dorsey, Miner and Vaile mingled with the groups in Colonel Ingersoll's parlors and received the congratulations of their friends. Mrs. J.

All men who have been prominent as with defendants were present in the house, and the crowd outside was made up of people who were conspicuous in the court room during the trial. At the conclusion of the speechmaking, Colonel Ingersoll invited the crowd into the bouse, where liquid refreshments was served. One of those who came into the house was Juror Evans. He was seized by the hands by Mrs. Dorsey and Mrs. Peck, who linked arms with him enthusiastically escorted him through the parlors, presented him
